

Becoming a Board Member has its Privileges

The ASTD South Central Wisconsin Chapter provides an active community of professionals dedicated to improving Workplace Learning and Performance. Our Chapter, first established in 1969, has a long history of providing inspiring programs, valuable networking and energetic members.

ASTD-SCWC Board membership benefits include:

Chapter Involvement

Paid attendance at programs and events – As a thank you for volunteering for a Board position, attend all Chapter programs and events for free.

Expand your network – Take advantage of the opportunities to interact with other Chapter and National ASTD members, volunteers, and professionals at ASTD programs locally, across Wisconsin and nationally.

Lifetime membership – Former Presidents receive a free local Chapter membership for life!

Workplace Learning and Performance

Advance team-building skills – Improve your ability to collaborate with others on our Board, with a special project team or on a committee just a few hours a month.

Enhance learning and training knowledge – Expand your knowledge through our programs which are based on the ASTD Competency Model Areas of Expertise. The nine areas include managing organizational knowledge, improving human performance, career planning and talent management, measuring and evaluating, facilitating organizational change, designing learning, delivering training, managing the learning function and coaching.

Career Enhancement

Build professional and personal relationships – We provide a great environment to help grow your career! Look great on your resume – ASTD is recognized internationally as the world premier Workplace Learning and Performance organization!

Improve leadership skills – Board member service is an investment in your leadership skills, benefiting you, our Chapter and your employer in many ways.

National ASTD Involvement

Paid membership & free T&D magazine – Our Chapter pays for your National membership which includes the great T&D publication being mailed to you.

“Members Only” web site access – Receive access to resources only available to National ASTD members.

ALC and ICE attendance – All Board members may have an opportunity to attend the annual ASTD Leaders Conference (ALC) in Washington D.C. and presidents may have an opportunity to attend the annual ASTD International Conference and Exposition (ICE).

Apply now to share your energy and excitement for Workplace Learning and Performance!

You'll be glad you did!
